CHARGE ACCUSED MAN OFTEN DECLARED HE WOULD 'GET' PEASLEE

HENNIKER, N. H., May 25.—"Silent Gene" Wood, the man under arrest on a charge of murdering Howard W. Peaslee, the Henniker toy-maker, had repeatedly threatened to "get" Peaslee, according to the story told the officers by witnesses found today.

The police are actively at work on the case, and the town is being canvassed, man for man, in an effort to find someone who can throw light on the case.

Titanic Owners Not Liable for Damages on Lives

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, owner of the steamship Titanic which foundered April 14, 1912, is not liable for the millions of dollars in damage claims filed against it for loss of life and property in that great disaster, according to a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

"Real Estate Opportunities Are No Respecters of Seasons"

Some one recently asked a man who had made a million in real estate what he considered the best time of the year to invest. His reply, as quoted above, contains a word of wisdom.

The ever-present now is always an opportune time, as will be evidenced by a glance through the Real Estate columns in the "Want Ad" section of the Boston American.

Pope's Plea for Peace Among Men and Nations

ROME, May 22.—In the course of his allocution at the consistory today, when fourteen cardinals were created, Pope Pius referred with deep feeling toward class struggles which have recently been reported from many quarters of the world. Recalling the Constantinian jubilee, the Pontiff said:

"The whole world seemed to lift up the cross of Christ as the sole source of peace and salvation for struggling humanity. Now, especially, men desire peace when class is against class, nations against nations and peoples against peoples and war may break out as a result of the rivalries daily become more bitter. Men of distinction and force are planning for their nations and for humanity, schemes for preventing the calamities of revolutions and the slaughter of war, and for insuring the blessings of peace."

This is a noble project, but their schemes will bear little fruit unless they insure that the precepts of justice and Christian charity take deep root in the hearts of men.

Today the question whether the state or civil society be at peace or in a state of turbulence is in the hands of the peoples instead of those of the rulers.

If the peoples' minds be robbed of the truth imparted by divine revelation, and if their will be unaccustomed to the restraint and discipline of Christian law, what wonder if, consumed by blind passion, they rush headlong to the common ruin to which they are driven by cunning demagogues seeking only their own profit.

The assistance of the church, as a guardian of justice and charity and mistress of truth, is therefore the most efficacious agent of the common weal. It is regrettable that the opposite often occurs, but the church, like Christ, does good and receives injuries in return. The divine help will never fail us. We have Christ for a pledge and history for a witness.

SAVE 10 HORSES IN $15,000 FIRE IN SOUTH END

Ten horses were rescued today at a two-alarm fire which did $15,000 damage to the livery stable of E. P. Chandler & Co., No. 121 Northampton street, South End. The fire started in the hayloft, spreading rapidly in the rear and along the firemen's hard fight.

Guests at the Hotel Hollingsworth, No. 174 Washington street, directly in the rear of the burning stable, were alarmed and removed their belongings to the street. A high wind drove sparks to a lodging house at No. 174 Washington street, which it set on fire.

Thirty horses had just previously been sent out of the stable. Patrolmen of Station 6, East Boston street, saw one of the first on the scene, and saved ten horses by throwing a blanket over the horse's head.

Combustion is believed to be the cause of the fire. The building is owned by the estate of C. A. Richards.

BODY FOUND IS THOUGHT TO BE OF AVIATOR HAMEL

DOVER, England, May 21.—The first of British torpedo boats which has been recovered in English waters since Saturday night, for Gustave Hamel, the missing aviator, reported in the hayloft, spreading rapidly in the rear and along the firemen's hard fight.

A report was received from Hastings this afternoon that the body of a man believed to be Hamel had been washed ashore from the English Channel at that place.

Since the death of Hon. Charles Rolls four years ago, there has been no more dramatic aerial tragedy than the disappearance of Hamel, and even the intimates among his friends are beginning to fear that his death may go down as a mystery.

At noon today Hamel had been missing for forty-eight hours, and nothing has been heard of him since he left the Dover harbor, for London at noon Saturday.

MEASURE FOR IRELAND NOW BECOMES LAW

LONDON, May 25.—The Home Rule for Ireland bill was passed in the House of Commons on the third and final reading this afternoon by a vote of 351 to 274, a government majority of 77. The bill becomes a law upon its signature by King George.

Home rule is now a fact. There is no doubt that royal assent will be given to the measure. In the regular course of events the Home Rule bill goes to the House of Lords, but the action of the peers will have no effect upon the measure.

The powers of the upper House of Parliament were destroyed by the act of Parliament providing that any bill having been passed in three consecutive sessions of Commons becomes a law by royal assent.

Today's passage of the Home Rule bill is a tremendous personal victory for Premier Herbert H. Asquith, who as pilot of the Liberal party carried the measure to victory after many months of desperate parliamentary struggle.

There was tense excitement in the chamber as the critical stage of the legislation was reached.

As soon as the session opened Premier Asquith made a statement on the measure. In it he declared that there had been no bargaining with the Irish Nationalists to get them to agree to a compromise.

"No terms have been offered to the Nationalists to induce them to agree to the exclusion of Ulster from the provisions of this measure," he declared.

The intense interest in the session of Commons was revealed by the great crowd that filled the galleries and overflowed into the corridors. The galleries reserved for the foreign diplomats and the press were jammed when Premier Asquith arose to make his statement for the government. The notes of the members made it difficult to hear the questions put to the Premier and his answers.

ROXBURY MAN WITH PISTOL IS HELD.

IRELANDS LONG FIGHT FOR HOME RULE; BILL PASSES 30 TIME

The members present in the House of Commons, London, today, were divided into two camps, the "Unionists" and the "Irish" of the respective parties to prevent defeat on a "no division" vote.

Premier Asquith disappointed the members by failing to give full details of the bill which the government intend to introduce to amend the Home Rule measure. Many protested at this failure. Speaker Lowther then made a personal statement to explain the adjournment of the session of last Thursday after great disorder. In his speech, the speaker appealed to the Premier to give further information regarding the pending bill.

Speaker Lowther was placed in a delicate position today. The Unionists have vowed to force his resignation and prevent the election of a successor, thus causing parliamentary chaos from which the Premier would have no way of escape except through an appeal to the electorate. In the efforts to prevent Speaker Lowther's resignation, the Premier urged Asquith to set the government's position forth fully.

STATEMENT BY ASQUITH.
The speaker's address was of a pacific nature. He concluded by appealing to A. Bonar Law, the Unionist leader, for using an offensive expression to Law last Thursday.

When the speaker concluded Premier Asquith stated that the government would amend the Home Rule bill and that the amendment would confirm any agreement reached by the parties, but that if no agreement was reached before the bill went to the House of Lords, an amending measure would embody the government proposals he had already outlined.

These provided for a vote by representatives of the various counties of Ulster to determine whether they should participate in the government or remain under the English government for limited period.

Bonar Law then suggested to the Unionist followers that they try to force the House of Commons to an end and take the division immediately.

The present situation continues to turn back the hands of the clock.

114 YEARS BATTLE IS WON BY IRELAND
By C. O'CONNELL GALVIN.
After a battle that has lasted, without intermission, for 114 years, the cause of Irish self-government is triumphant.

Home Rule is a fact. By vote of the House of Commons which, under the Parliament act is now supreme, the bill of Prime Minister Asquith to restore to Ireland her national parliament, passed its final step today by a majority of 77-501 in favor, 274 opposed.

King George V. will now sign the bill and a statute law will be part of the moment for Great Britain.

Mr. Gladstone had his home rule bill twenty-five years ago by thirty votes. His successor, Mr. Asquith, won today by seventy-seven.

John Horrigan of Newtonville, a linenman employed by the Cambridge Electric Light Company, was electrocuted on a pole at the corner of Hampshire and Prospect streets, Cambridge, today. His body fell a dozen feet and was caught between two other heavily charged wires, where it hung in mid-air.

At the peril of his life Andrew Campbell, another linenman who had been working at the tip end of the pole, climbed down, cut four live wires and rescued his friend's body. A crowd cheered him as he manuevered his way in and out of the wires, touching any of which would have meant death.

Campbell clung to the pole as he just could for fifteen minutes when the crew of a ladder truck from the Lafayette Square fire station arrived, put up the ladder and bore him to the street. Campbell was exhausted.

In a police ambulance while rushing to the Cambridge Road Hospital Police Surgeon Fred Ellis used a pistol guard on a crowd of on-lookers. This treatment was kept up for three-quarters of an hour. But Horrigan was dead. He had probably been instantly killed at the first contact with the upper wire before his body fell. These wires were two in number, each with a voltage of 2,500.

Horrigan had been sent up the pole to assist Campbell. In some manner his cotton-gloved hands touched the two wires, so that 4,000 volts must have passed through his body.

Horrigan was married and lived at No. 48 Waterston street, Newtonville.

TANGUISTS IN BOSTON AT WAR OVER 'AMATEUR'

Tanguists in Boston are all worked up over the pressing problem: "What is an amateur?"

At the dance carnival at the Boston Theatre last week, cops were offered each night for the best dancers of the modern steps. Only amateurs were supposed to be admitted. But it is asserted, several people who had taught dancing for money, or received money for dancing, took part.

With Miss Joan Sawyer at the Shubert this week and another series of dance competitions, the amateurs are crying out against these professional-amateurs who take all the prizes.

The thing came to a climax at a meeting of dancing teachers of Boston, at the studio of Lilla Vyle Wyman on Boylston street. A young teacher wanted to know the definition of "amateur." There was a lively discussion that ended in this suggestion:

"No person may take part in an amateur competition who has ever received money for dancing, for teaching dancing, or for competing where cash was offered the winner."

Another suggestion was that anyone winning a certain number of cups in amateur tournaments thereby become professional. E. Clarence Jones of New York suggested a set of handicaps.

But the thing was still in the air when the meeting adjourned.

HUERTA'S DEMANDS BLOCK MEDIATORS' PEACE PLANS

ASK DISBANDEMENT OF ENTIRE REBEL ARMY

mediators. An interval Sen Riquelme, the dominating personality among them, translates into other long messages to General Huerta and receives the replies.

There are indications that the American delegates would be pleased at any instruction from Washington permitting them to meet the demands of the Mexicans. They want to have a hand in any adjustment of the trouble, and they are convinced that the Mexicans must either save something for their government at once or be abandoned by the military success of the Constitutionalists. That the latter will soon prevail is taken for granted on all sides.

Arrangements for the formation of a provisional government in case President Wilson should finally agree to the demands made by the Huerta delegates, and succeeded in taming Carranza and Villa, could be quickly made. The Huerta delegates will accept any proposition made outside of the Villa and Carranza following an unofficial precedent.

AGREE TO SALTATE

They will agree that each provisional order shall order the relative of each one given to be first in satisfaction of the treaty given the American flag at Tampico. They will make no objection to the granting of American troops at Vera Cruz until an election shall have been held, although they ask that the civil government of the city be restored to Mexico.

Finally they propose to negotiate with American bankers for a large national loan to be devoted to restoring the industries of the country and to paying off the Constitutional soldiers if they are disbanded. The arrival here of Mr. Luis Riquelme, who was a candidate for the presidency of Mexico last year on the Felix Diaz ticket, and who led the advance of Huerta's forces, is understood to be one of a series of moves toward a reconciliation of all the anti-Villa influences in the republic. Riquelme is a well-known and has a large fortune, chiefly in the United States.

U. S. NAVAL AVIATOR SHOT AT 25 TIMES WHILE IN FLIGHT

VERA CRUZ, May 25.—Lieutenant Patrick N. L. Bellinger, chief naval aviator, was shot at twenty-five times while making a flight here. He escaped unhurt and the bullets did not damage his hydroplane. Bellinger was shot at once before by Mexicans while making a flight to observe the position of General Maas' troops.

He was flying over the Vera Cruz airport endeavoring to locate the Mexican forces who are believed to be massing in great strength around Vera Cruz.

The aviator was about 1,000 feet up when he was shot at. His body was unscathed and formed a red mark, even at that height. The Mexicans were less successful than in the previous attack on the aviator. They fired two bullets out through the wings of his machine.

GAMBOA AND RASCON REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN ASSASSINATED

EL PASO, Texas, May 25.—The local constitutionalists' junta has an unconfirmed report that General Tadeo Gamboa and Francisco Rascon were assassinated in Mexico City on Saturday. Rascon was Minister of War in the Cabinet of President Huerta, and Gamboa was at one time Minister of Agriculture for President Huerta. Both have taken a prominent part in the Carrista party's political affairs. Rascon was the chief candidate for vice-president at the recent election.

General Fernando Trujillo Aubert, who has been held prisoner in the Santiago Penitentiary at Mexico City for several weeks, after being arrested for failing to go to the aid of the Federalists at Torreon, is also reported to have been executed by order of Huerta.

Mexicans who refuse to enlist in the Federal Army are being executed as traitors. Jose Quintana, a wealthy resident of Tuerri Blanca, did when ordered to serve in the army, but was courted and shot.

Several women were injured Sunday when a train, bringing refugees from the capital to Vera Cruz, was derailed on the Mexican Central west of the gap in the railroad outside of Vera Cruz. No Americans were injured.

PLEAD ILLNESS TO DODGE PROBE OF NEW HAVEN

WASHINGTON, May 25.—An imposing array of witnesses scheduled to appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission tomorrow, when it again takes up its inquiry into the financial operations of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

The hearing room will resemble a metropolitan hospital ward. If the illness described in the physician's certificate which lies on the desk of Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel for the commission, prove fatal, Wall Street will be decimated and the power of New England's financial world will be laid in its grave.

Morton F. Plant, the New York financier, who was described by Charles S. Mellen, as having more money than the entire New Haven system, and his doctor and his lawyer to see Solicitor Folk today. The doctor came to say that Plant was ill and the lawyer accompanied him to prove it. Plant is suffering from nervous prostration.

TO SEE ROCKEFELLER.
It is the case of William Rockefeller which is causing Folk his chief concern. He fact he has known today that an expert accountant of the commission has an appointment with Rockefeller today. The accountant will decide whether or not it is a physical condition which will permit of his giving testimony in Washington. "Why should an accountant be sent to interview a sick man?" he was asked.

"To count up Mr. Rockefeller's ailments," I guess," the Governor replied. "Anyway, I expect to receive a report from him this afternoon and the commission's action of summoning Mr. Rockefeller will be based on this report."

"Charles W. Morse is anxious to appear," continued Folk. "But it is uncertain whether he will be called. I know everything there is to be known in connection with the steamship business in which Mr. Morse and the New Haven were mixed up."

where a large foreign colony is reported to be in a desperate plight. General Pacific Nacera has reported to General Carranza that he has defeated Federal outposts at Zacatecas and demanded the surrender of that city from General Medina Barron, the Federal commander there.

A report from General Torres, under date of Thursday, states that he was attacking that city with great vigor in the hope of capturing the Federal garrison or forcing it to evacuate.

General Carranza was in conference for several hours last night with his agent in Washington. A dispatch was wired up to connect the Constitutionalists' headquarters with the American capital.

A Series of Little Talks to Readers

Lower Prices Made Possible by Advertising

ADVERTISING plays a decidedly important and beneficial part in the price of merchandise.

In order to advertise successfully in the face of competition a dealer must offer either better goods, better service, lower prices or easier terms than he might otherwise do. This means that he must increase his sales; instead of waiting for the trade to drift his way he must reach out and attract it to his store.

He must multiply his invitation to persons who need his goods, he must enlarge his field of operation from a few hundred to thousands—and he can do this in no other way than through the medium of advertising.

The larger business produced by advertising enables the dealer to spread his selling cost and overhead expense over a wider range and thus lower the price of the goods he sells. It is simply a question of smaller profits, but larger sales.

PEOPLES ASSOCIATION OF BUSINESS IS CONSIDERED SERIOUS AT WASHINGTON

By E. C. FORBES, Business Editor.

"Tomorrow is also a day." I would commend that Chinese proverb to the serious consideration of President Wilson and his advisers at this critical time.

The country needs business reform, but it needs business now.

Nobody will suffer through delay in forcing through more anti-business legislation. Everybody will suffer through delay in a revival of business.

Some of the facts I have learned at Washington and elsewhere during the last week are:

1.—Washington is not fully alive to the hardships several millions of citizens and their families are at present undergoing because of depression in trade.

2.—The slackness in many sections of the country is more pronounced than generally realized. In towns where the principal manufacturers are hours or semi-hours half-time and even third-time is the rule.

3.—Certain Washington leaders do not yet realize that certain of their measures designed to cripple only the trusts will affect all business enterprises unless radical amendments are made.

4.—The second round New Haven disclosure has a very natural and very proper—indeed, an intense indignation in Washington. It will be felt throughout the country, and fresh legislation aimed at curbing the powers of railroad autocrats will shortly be brought forward.

5.—Another Boston sensation, understood, is about to be uncovered—namely, the saddling of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad with the Massachusetts Central, Hamilton & Bay State road.

The investigators, I think, will find that this shamless transaction, carried through, not by the boards of directors of these two properties, but solely by the trio of J. Morgan and Edward H. Harriman, the deal being the service mainly to Baltimore & Ohio to secure for the ambitious Harriman a place in the New York Central system.

High financial firm-fattening of the Morgan-Harriman variety is not rampant just at the moment. Calm consideration of curative legislation will do no harm and may save the country from very serious injury hereafter.

6.—The Chicago & Alton scandal, which has already been exposed by the newspapers, is likely to receive official attention, and the airing of the sordid facts by the Interstate Commerce Commission will tend to aggravate the situation, already so embarrassing to the country.

7.—The C. & A. crime has been exposed by the newspapers, and Ohio railroads are in a sorry state. It may be that the Interstate Commerce Commission will find it necessary to take some action in this connection.

REPUBLICANS IN THE MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE

Against the plan to BE proposed by the Governor and to shape the content of an anti-New Haven bill.

And the same Republicans, heretofore, the New Haven, will "shape the content of an anti-New Haven bill."

Which assuredly would be "some shaping."

An ass in the skin of a lion would have a better chance to deceive the people of Massachusetts today than the Republican organization posing as "anti-New Haven."

And which further is not to say that the AMERICAN, hereby and heretofore, pledges its hearty support to Governor Walsh's railroad program.

The AMERICAN is not now informed concerning that program.

Unlike those Republicans in the Legislature who are forming a coalition against the plan to BE proposed by the Governor, the AMERICAN will wait to see what that plan may be.

And the AMERICAN has no reason why the Legislature should not clear the decks of other important matters and at the same time eternal not problem with all the state looking down with no "out license" side-shows to divert attention.

When the House tomorrow is done with the pressing political tangle of political Boston it may have a little time left to consider the school children and their teeth.

A bill "relative to teaching teeth and mouth hygiene to children in schools and institutions" has been especially assigned for tomorrow.

This school dentistry bill provides in brief, that anybody who has passed a satisfactory examination in the subjects of mouth hygiene, sanitation, transmission of infectious and contagious diseases and the change of teeth, and who holds a certificate of effect from the Board of Registration in Dentistry, may clean the teeth of school children in public or private schools or institutions.

This bill, one of its friends said today to the AMERICAN, "stimulates the school children to get their teeth cleaned in the elementary schools. Here lies the key to the situation."

Postoffice Clerks Form Boston Union

A Boston Union of the A. P. of L. National Association of Postoffice Clerks, met at a meeting at Intercolonial Hall, Roxbury, Tuesday night, and was signed by one hundred sixty.

Mr. Melville's testimony at Washington, we are further informed by the leader writer, "has made it possible to form a union."

Perhaps—no, only a "union" with the Governor will be ready with his railroad measure when the Legislature is prepared to give the most important matter its undivided attention.

Strange, to say the least, that after dawdling away their time for five months, they make in October, they now want to hurry home.

It might well be that if they hadn't failed for three or four days about "hanging back" they would have nearer promotion.

And it is the people of Massachusetts have a right to insist that their lawmakers will make a job of it and give to the matters named above at least one-third of the time they gave to the last proposition.

Nightly important matter the House has today, by the way, to start the week with. Bill to provide for the supervision of Water Companies by the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners.

Committee on Ways and Means, for

NO. 22 ATTENTION, MAYOR CURLEY!

If you had made as good a contract for the people of Boston with the Electric Light Company as the City of Mobile, Ala., made with its Electric Light Company, Boston would save about one million, two hundred and thirty-eight thousand dollars during the period of the contract which you wish to fast upon Boston. This great sum saved by the city would give more than ONE THOUSAND SIX HUNDRED AND FIFTY WORKMEN A FULL YEAR'S EMPLOYMENT.

Would you have been elected Mayor, Mr. Curley, if you had told the people of Boston that you considered the 12 per cent. dividends of the Edison Electric Light Company more sacred than the bread and butter of the clerks, the laborers, the police, the firemen, the nurses, the matrons employed by the city, whom you have reduced or discharged, or more sacred than the pleasure and health which the citizens obtain from their parks and public buildings which your FALSE economy tends to cripple?

Wife-President for a "Wider Religion"

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 23.—Wife-President Marshall, speaking here in aid of a campaign to raise funds to build a Union Mission Settlement, said:

"Until recently I was of the opinion that the result and the initiative and referendum would have a tendency to remedy the labor evils which exist in such States as West Virginia and Colorado, especially the mining regions, but I believe now that a wider religion is the essential."

There was not much business in the United Fruit market and the trading locally was devoid of interest, unless the further decline of United Fruit may be cited as an exception.

There was a slight improvement in the price of bananas, which were sold down to 14¢. The total of transactions in it was small. Most business in other stocks was also quiet.

There was a slight improvement in the price of rubber, but it was not so much as the other firms, however. New Haven was the only one to show a gain.

There was not enough movement in copper issues to warrant comment.
